

The background features several light blue film strips and reels, some of which are partially unspooled, creating a sense of motion and cinematic theme. The text is overlaid on this background.

Surprise

We are uncovering better ways of developing software by doing it and helping others do it.

Through this work we have come to value:

Individuals and interactions over processes and tools

Working software over comprehensive documentation

Customer collaboration over contract negotiation

Responding to change over following a plan

That is, while there is value in the items on the right, we value the items on the left more.

Film Process

- Development
- Pre-production
- Production
- Post-Production
- Distribution

Apocalypse Now

- Constant challenges
 - Constant rewriting
 - Consistent vision
 - Lots of refactoring (“editing”)

Technology Change

Talkies

The Great Dictator, Charlie Chaplin (1940)

Color

- 1922: two-color Technicolor process
- 1930: 36 films under Technicolor contract
- 1932: retooled “three-strip” process
- 1936: *Garden of Allah
- 1938: *Adventures of Robin Hood

Digital

- 1993: Avid, the first digital NLE
- 2000: *O Brother Where Art Thou
- 2002: Star Wars Attack of the Clones or something
- Today: Nolan, Tarantino, Spielberg, Scorsese

Technology Change

- Periods of innovation
 - Periods of stasis
 - Resistance at inflection points
 - Success is not technical
 - Form over content

Gaffer

Gaffer

A woman with blonde hair tied back, wearing a dark t-shirt, is looking upwards and reaching into a dense network of black and red cables. The cables are organized in a structured manner, with some bundled together. The background is a server rack with multiple rows of equipment, slightly out of focus. The overall scene is a technical environment, likely a data center or server room.

Story

I was always a filmmaker before I was anything else. If I was always anything, I was a storyteller, and it never really made much of a difference to me what medium I worked in.
